

Weston Flooring Ltd:

WALKING ON AIR

Written By Simona Panetta

PAT, SAM, AND DOMENIC CONDO
Weston Flooring Ltd.

of our clients, with over 130 highly trained employees,” says Sam.

Running the company on a daily basis, Sam is proud to have his family by his side. His sons, Domenic and Pat, play a vital role in the company, by continuing his “customer-first” legacy.

While Pat coordinates new development ventures, which span from low to high-rise commercial, residential and custom home projects, Domenic is in charge of sales.

“I feel honored to be a part of my father’s successful business,” says Domenic. “I have high expectations for myself and the future of Weston Flooring, as I would like to offer continuity to achieve and obtain the current level of success we are experiencing,” he adds.

Knowing that success will continue if the company stays fresh and innovative, Sam ensures that all of his employees are Evoking brilliance in countless homes with endless hardwood floor options, Weston Flooring Ltd. has evolved into one of the largest hardwood flooring companies in the Greater Toronto Area.

In just one month, over 500 homes are transformed into elegant, polished abodes, with the hardwood floors installed by Weston Flooring.

Recognized throughout the community for its work and dedication, this family-operated company was recently praised with the famed Contractor of the Year award by The Building Industry and Land Association (BILD), which is the voice of the land development, home building, and professional renovation industry in the GTA.

Honoured for its great achievements and innovation, Weston Flooring continues to electrify building associations and its loyal client base by putting its best foot forward.

Ceaselessly creating lasting impressions with spectacular flooring that glows, homeowners know that an accomplished man stands behind the wonderful product they will enjoy for years to come.

Founded in 1974 by Italian native Sam Condo, Weston Flooring was born from this

“I have attained my dream ... and it has brought me a sense of accomplishment and success.” – Sam Condo man’s ambition to excel and vision to create. Setting out first as a floor sander, a 21-year-old Sam learned hands-on about the flooring industry before opening his own company.

“It was a big risk to take, but I knew that if I remained passionate about my dream of becoming an entrepreneur, I could do it,” says Sam, who was supported throughout his journey to the top by his wife, Nancy.

“We’re happy that all of our efforts have been recognized,” says Nancy.

Today, Weston Flooring remains loyal to its philosophy, which is based on providing high-quality products while servicing its patrons with the best in customer service.

“We’ve grown to accommodate the needs trained periodically. Weston Flooring also provides environmentally friendly products to its customers, such as engineered and floating floors.

By passing on the hard work ethic he mastered while growing up in southern Italy to his sons, the Condo family is delivering the best of hardwood flooring.

“I have attained my dream, and because I live it everyday, it has brought me a sense of accomplishment and success,” says Sam. ©

www.westonflooring.com